

Ready to Go fundamentals

Walkgrove's fundamentals range comprises short, multi-device ready e-learning topics which put the fun back into learning. The topics are designed to engage the learner and deliver learning which sticks.

Aimed primarily at junior or aspirational managers, each of the topics is designed to hit hard and fast. Core skills are stripped to the bone, allowing exploration of only the essential elements.

In minutes learners will have acquired enough information to begin the transference of the skill into their workplace or home life. We are not claiming that Ready to go fundamentals will teach everything there is to know about a topic - but they will encourage the learner to learn about the basics and use this knowledge to start making a difference immediately.
